Gelbvieh Profit Partners Elects Directors, Leadership

Gelbvieh Profit Partners Inc., elected new directors and re-elected its board leadership for another term during the company's annual meeting in Denver, Colo., on January 9th.

Slim Cook, Profit Partners' operating manager, gave his annual report to a well-attended stockholders meeting. The cattle fed by Gelbvieh Profit Partners in fiscal 2008 beat the projected industry average by $137 per head. On average, the cattle feeding industry lost $150 per head on cattle fed in 2008. The Gelbvieh Profit Partners cattle lost $12.90 per head from feeding operations.

Cook admitted it was still a loss but the cattle performance and spreading feeding risk to other geographic areas helped the cattle feeding company perform better than industry average. The equity price for Gelbvieh Profit Partners Inc., at end of fiscal 2008 was $276.54 per share.

Directors re-elected to a second three-year term include John Carrel of Columbus, Mont., and Skyler Martin of Oregon, Ill. Dan Warner of Beaver City, Neb., was elected to a new three-year term.

Steve Munger of Highmore, S.D., was re-elected as GPP President. John Carrel will continue as Vice President, Skyler Martin as Secretary, and John Burbank of St. Catharine, Mo., was re-elected as GPP Treasurer.

Other directors continuing on in their three-year terms include: Dave Judd, Pomona, Kan.; Scott Starr, Stapleton, Neb.; and Vaughn Thorstenson, Selby, S.D. Slim Cook continues to serve as Operating Manager and Wayne Vanderwert is the GPP Chief Financial Officer.

Gelbvieh Profit Partners Inc., is preparing to launch another equity drive. Interested investors should contact Slim Cook at 307-272-2024 or email him at slimck@tribcsp.com.
